Board trims aid to $5,000

Hancock supervisors underwrite financially troubled Mobile Medic

By CAROLE LANGE

The Hancock County board of supervisors agreed Monday to channel $5,000 from its Pauper's Fund in an effort to help Mobile Medic meet its Friday payroll and provide temporary relief to the financially unstable ambulance service.

The decision came following an appeal by Douglas Burgin, Mobile Medic president, who told the board "without financial aid, we will go under." Burgin said he would also ask assistance from the Harrison County supervisors and the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Burgin had asked the board for a total of $35,000 for its 1976 operating budget, and suggested that Mobile Medic borrow the money based on next year's millage commitment. Board attorney Sam Farve put a damper on those plans however, pointing out that a county can subsidize private enterprises in special cases, but that subsidy does not include a millage.

With Hancock County's $5,000 commitment, $3,000 from the city of Bay St. Louis, $2,000 from the city of Waveland, and $23,500 from the Harrison County board of supervisors, the ambulance service should be able to meet expenses for approximately three months, Burgin said.

During that three month "trial period" as one Harrison County supervisor referred to it, Mobile Medic will stage an extensive door to door campaign to sell the ambulance service subscriptions.

Burgin said at the present time, approximately 11,500 Hancock County residents subscribe to the service. He said the "magic number" of subscriptions is 15,000 and added that he believed a special force of five full-time sales people would be able to get the required number of subscriptions to keep the service operating.

Mobile Medic began operations in Hancock and West Harrison Counties in August, 1974 after funeral homes which had traditionally run the ambulance service business said rising costs were forcing them to cease that part of their operation.

Mobile Medic was based on a similar service in Louisiana, which reported success with subscription sales. Burgin said Mobile Medic has staged two subscription campaigns in this area, however, he pointed out that they were through advertising rather than door to door selling.

Explaining the concept behind the new campaign, Burgin said "It is our feeling that there are many people who would enroll if someone would merely sit down and explain our services to them."

He said the annual fee will increase to $18, allowing each salesperson a $3 commission on every subscription he sells. "If each salesman can sell 35 subscriptions per week, Mobile Medic will realize over $9,000 per month for the remainder of this fiscal year," Burgin said.

March leader

Rev. Ralph Abernathy, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) president, led a group of wet, but willing marchers from the Hancock County courthouse last week on the first leg of their 60 mile hike to Pascagoula in protest of the conviction of Christopher Moore.

Waveland civic leaders portend creation of separate Chamber

"We don't want to compete with the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, just do a better job for Waveland," said Lee Ashman, chairman of the Waveland Area Chamber of Commerce feasibility committee Tuesday.

Ashman, who is active in the Waveland Jaycees, was quizzed of the intentions of his group after announcing that the State Chamber of Commerce had enthusiastically endorsed his enquiry as to the feasibility of forming a separate Waveland Chamber.

"We have 15 to 20 people willing to start a chamber here, in Waveland," he said, adding, "The state group sent us the required papers but these have not yet been completed or submitted for charter."

The new chamber, reportedly to be housed within its own building, is earmarked for establishment on the presently lightly developed area between the Ramada Inn and the new Our Shopping Center, U.S. 90, an area described by Ashman as being the future "main city area."

He said the group had been waiting to see what the Hancock Chamber would do following the arrival of its new manager, but no new developments have emerged, at least as far as the city of Waveland is concerned, Ashman said.

Supervisors save Beat One workers income

In an unprecedented six hour meeting, the Hancock County board of supervisors took unusual action Monday and voted 4-1 to hire full-time employees of Beat One in order that the workers might receive a Christmas paycheck.

The action came after it was realized that the account of outgoing Beat One supervisor Jerry Ladner did not have enough funds to pay either Ladner's salary of $795 or that of his 13 employees, for the month of November.

Clerk John Rutherford reported that Ladner's account showed a balance of $520, but his claim docket showed charges amounting to over $10,000. Salaries at stake, including Ladner's amount to over $3,400.

It was suggested and, unanimously agreed upon by the other four supervisors, that they each contribute one fourth the payroll amount from their accounts to the Beat One account. However, board attorney Sam Farve said according to the law, items had to be paid in the order they appeared on the claim docket, and the payroll was at the end of the list.

Suggestions to remedy the problem came from several sources during the lengthy discussion. The use of revenue sharing funds was discussed, but vetoed, and at one point, Beat Five supervisor Jimmy Travirca said, "If I had the money I'd pay them out of my own pocket, but I just don't have it."

After the decision was made to hire the Beat One workers for road work prior to a State Aid road inspection Dec. 19, Farve said the only way they could receive their November paychecks would be to file suit against Ladner's bonding company.

Ladner sat quietly throughout the discussion, commenting only that "Beat One will be left in better shape than it's ever been left in by an outgoing supervisor."

Foul weather friends

Despite a rainy, cold November day, an estimated 125 friends of Christopher Moore appeared at the Hancock County courthouse last week to participate in a rally prior to beginning their five-day protest march to Pascagoula.

Dale condemns rate increases

Public Service Commissioner John L. Dale today reacted angrily to announcements by several of the state's public utility companies of their intentions of increasing telephone and power rates under bond without such rates being approved by the Public Service Commission.

Dale stated Tuesday in Jackson, "During the entire time I have been Public Service Commissioner I have continually opposed that provision of The Mississippi Law which allows a public utility company to simply post a bond and raise the rates people have to pay even though such increased rates have not and may never be approved. Every person who goes to court has to win his case and convince a judge or a jury before he can enjoy the fruits of his victory. I believe utility companies seeking rate increases ought to have to wait until they win their case just like everyone else. This law is very wrong, and I hope the Legislature will do something about it in the near future."

Continuing, Dale said, "During the past two weeks Mississippi Power Company, MP&L and South Central Bell Telephone Company have all announced plans to post bond and increase their rates. None of these cases has been heard by the Public Service Commission, yet under the Law these companies are able to ignore the Public Service Commission and go ahead and raise their rates. The time has come when we need to make up our minds about whether we are going to regulate the utility companies or whether we are going to let them do as they please."

When Coast Electric puts up its giant-sized Santa Claus, it's a sure sign that Christmas is not "sometime next month" but just a very few days away. The brightly colored Santa can be seen several miles away by motorists traveling east on U.S. Highway 90.

Chamber gives Anita Lamb first woman presidency

Mrs. Anita D. Lamb of Bay St. Louis has been elected the first woman president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

A four year veteran on the chamber board of directors Mrs. Lamb is an assistant and assistant branch manager cashier of Gulf National Bank in Bay St. Louis.

(Sonny) Bailey, owner and president of Bailey Electric Co., vice president; Richard Thomas, CPA, Moore and Powell Chartered Accountants, treasurer.

The new executive committee consists of Mrs. Lamb as president, P. D. Bailey as vice-president, John Binegar, manager of Main St. Exxon, Bay St. Louis, and Highway 603 Exxon, Waveland; Jean Larroux, Merchants Bank and Trust Co.; Edward Hall, publisher, Sea Coast Echo; Robert B. Britton, former executive director with the Governor's Emergency Council; Jay Triebe, president, Hancock Builders, Inc.; and Ron Griffin, manager, Olasco, Our Shopping Center.

Mrs. Lamb, who described her election as being a definite honor, said yesterday she is looking forward to an exciting year with the chamber.

"With the new industries settling into Hancock County and the revitalized activity out at NASA's National Space Technologies Laboratory, we should have a busy and exciting year at the chamber," she said.

Max Berns, chamber manager, said a complete program of activities had been planned for the current year and these would be released in the form of a "list of priority items" when final approval of the directors had been given.

Mrs. Lamb is the mother of nine children and lives, with her husband, William R. Lamb, at 624 North Beach.

A former board member of Bay Waveland Yacht Club, and the City County Public Library, Mrs. Lamb is serving as treasurer of the Friends of the Library, is on the board of directors of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center, and is president of the Hancock County Association for the Handicapped. She is also a member of the United Methodist Church, the Catholic Church, and the Senior Citizens Program.

Project Do welcomes young Viet refugees

Forty-five Vietnamese children were made welcome to Bay St. Louis Saturday, Nov. 22 when more than 100 teenagers from four local high schools played host to the overseas visitors.

The Vietnamese, who arrived with their interpreters, were the guests of Project Do, a teenage involvement group operating under the directorship and guidance of Brother Canisius Schell of St. Stanislaus College.

Host students, who also provided the picnic lunches, organized and participated in a full day of activities which included such events as volleyball, touch football, basketball, kick ball, jump rope, and exploratory beach hikes. These activities in the main, centered around the St. Stanislaus and Our Lady's Academy campuses.

The visiting children came from refugee families who fled South Vietnam and have temporarily resettled in a camp at Algiers, Louisiana.

Brother Canisius, in a release following the event said, "The purpose of having teenagers host these refugee children was to enable them to get away from the settlement in Algiers where they are now living and to give them an opportunity to meet American young people who were willing to take time out of their busy schedules to make these unfortunate people feel welcome into our country."

Lt. Col. Bourgeois to head bicentennial carnival

Lieutenant Colonel Randolph C. Bourgeois, U.S. Army (Ret.), has been appointed executive director of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish's Carnival Ball, 1976, and the Carnival Association.

Ribbon cutting to open sports center on "90"

Mayor Warren Carver will cut the ribbon and declare the Sportsman's Paradise on U.S. 90 officially open at noon on Saturday, Dec. 13.

Four hours of live entertainment will follow the ribbon cutting and refreshments will be made available. Door prize drawings will be made by radio personalities from Station WUPU, Bay St. Louis, which plans to cover the event with its remote broadcast unit.

Located opposite Wheel Inn, the center will cater to all sportsman's needs.

Owned by Carl Gustafson and son, Carl, Junior, of Waveland, the store, when completely stocked will house fishing, hunting, archery, skiing, pool and boating supplies, and serve as a center for boat registration, and fishing and hunting license applications.

There is not another store of this type between Chalmette, La., and Gulfport,

Miss., Gustafson said Tuesday, adding, "My son and I have enough faith in the area to know the business will succeed."

The owner said he has been busy since informally opening the store recently, and advised persons to drop in ahead of time to register for door prizes.

"We want to be ready when the official opening takes place, so we ask everybody to register for door prizes in advance of the ribbon cutting," he said.

Gustafson also owns and operates the Waveland Insulation Service.

Fire department enters contest

The Bay St. Louis fire department has entered a national contest sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

"This is the first time our department has entered this annual contest," Chief Robert Gavagnie said, "and it is an honor for us to do so because few cities in our area participate."

Gavagnie said the department entered a report of its recent Fire Prevention Program which included the elementary and high school student projects and the senior citizens project.

He said the winners will be announced in February, 1976, following the NFPA's annual convention in Boston.

A veteran of World War II, Korea and Vietnam, and a Master Army Aviator with more than 25 years of aviation and communications experience, Colonel Bourgeois lists among his more than 40 awards and decorations the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross for Heroism, two Bronze Stars, three Meritorious Service Medals, seven Air Medals, two Army Commendation Medals, and three Republic of Vietnam Crosses of Gallantry.

Prior to retirement from active duty, Colonel Bourgeois was assigned as Director of Communications for Headquarters, Department of the Army Operations Center, the Pentagon, Washington, D.C. Previous assignments in the Washington, D.C. area were as a project manager for aviation and airborne surveillance devices at the Army Materiel Command, as a research and development manager for aviation electronics at the Army

Former JSU president, Dr. Dansby dies

JACKSON STATE — Dr. B. Baldwin Dansby, the fourth president of Jackson State University died Thursday, November 20, 1975, at the age of 96.

Dr. Dansby served Jackson State University as a faculty member and as an administrator for forty-two years. Thirteen of those years were in the capacity of president (1927-1940).

During Dr. Dansby's administration, Jackson State University underwent its greatest financial struggle. In 1930, the Baptist Home Mission Society announced that it was withdrawing all financial support from the institution. For more than ten years, Dr. Dansby struggled to keep the doors of the University open and succeeded in placing the institution in the hands of the State of Mississippi in 1940.

For this distinct achievement, Dr. Dansby was known and respected as the preserver of the University.

Dr. B. Baldwin Dansby was born April 17, 1879, in Hogansville, Georgia, near Atlanta. He was the fourth child of a family of eight and was the last surviving member of the original Dansby family at the time of his death.

For better educational advantages, his parents, William and Eliza Dansby, enrolled him at an early age in the Atlanta Baptist Seminary (now Morehouse College) where he completed elementary school, four years in the Academy, and in 1906 as valedictorian of his class, was awarded the B.A. degree in mathematics.

North Central students attend state band clinic

Two students from Hancock North Central School have been selected to attend the State Band Clinic scheduled for Dec. 11, 12, and 13, in Biloxi.

Dolly Rester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rester, Rt. 1, Picayune, and Chip Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lee, Rt. 3, Picayune, have also been chosen to participate in the Mid South Honor Band slated for January at the University of Mississippi.

Miss Rester plays first clarinet in the North Central Band, while Lee plays solo trumpet.

As part of the clinic the pair will try out for placement in one of three bands by playing a prepared solo, scales, and sight reading. They will also read music to be presented in state competition in spring and will perform at a public concert on Saturday in Biloxi.

What to do when filing claims

When a widow is filing a claim for a Widow's Pension, if at all possible the widow should wait a few weeks after the death of her husband in order to determine what her income and net worth will be. For example, what is going to be the amount of her Social Security or the amount of her portion of her husband's retirement? What is the

Filing a claim with incomplete information only results in the Veterans Administration writing for the needed information. This in turn results in a slowing down of the final decision and causes the claimant to make unnecessary trips. The same applies to all types of claims. Claims will be processed much quicker when all the Either case prevents the spouse from ever drawing death benefits or dependents benefits. Birth certificates of children must be submitted where there has been more than one marriage.

Remember this—a widow's claim will be paid retroactive to the date of death of the veteran if the claim is made within one year of the death of amount of life insurance that she has received or will receive? If the death was not in a V.A. Hospital a death certificate must be submitted. The amount of the funeral bill must be known and the date and the amount paid by the widow. The amount of the last illness expenses, such as ambulance service, nurses fees, doctor bills and hospital bills can be submitted with the receipts showing the amount paid and to be paid and the dates of payment.

information goes in as a complete package.

All veterans are again reminded that if they or their spouse have had a previous marriage, a death certificate or a divorce decree must be submitted dissolving that marriage before the present spouse can ever be claimed as a dependent. There have been several cases where the veteran did not know where the death or divorce occurred and in some cases whether there was a death or a divorce.

Be prepared. Obtain these very important documents and keep them in a safe place that is known to both the veteran and the spouse. Any woman veteran who attended school under the Veterans Administration Educational Bill between June 1, 1966 and October 24, 1972 is entitled to retroactive pay for that period if she was married.

Navy likens local press to D.C. reporter ferrets

Early in November, Admiral J. Edward Snyder, special assistant to the commander of the Navy, charged members of the local news media for their apparent undue attention to rumors instead of facts.

In response to an enquiry made by a Times-Picayune reporter, as to whether or not rumors indicating that NASA's National Space Technologies Laboratory (NSL) in Hancock County was being turned into a military installation, had any basis in fact, the admiral said the question sounded like something the Washington Post might ask, and promptly went into his anti-media tirade.

That he so quickly struck a nerve ending must have astonished our companion of the pen.

Faced, at that time, with the navy's obvious intent to "launch" a fully manned dry-dock vessel into the already "onboard" region of National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Agency personnel, especially in view of the admiral's functions as Naval Deputy to the Administrator, NSL, the NOAA interdicted U. S. Coast Guard squads, the U. S. Coast Guard Strike Team, the continuing activities of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, the on-site presence of the Edgewood Arsenal Resident Laboratory, the expected construction of a small submarine in the U. S. Army ammunition plant, an operation guaranteed to produce more than a smattering of uniformed personnel, it would appear the reporter's question was based on an ample display of growing military involvement more than rumor.

Washington's that since that time members of the news media plant may have been blown apart in Washington, but that of that, the balance of the question's probable spawning thoughts remain intact.

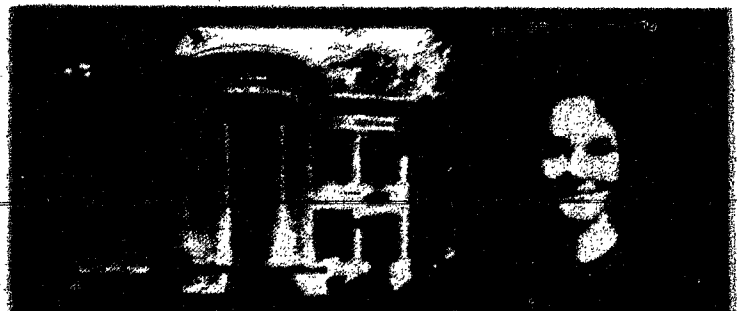

Frankly, in most circles, it matters very little which government department gets the strings at NSL, providing some measure of return is being realized from the installation's activities.

But, it seems to me, that among the local press corps we have a reporter whose first brush with the morning "press" results in him getting "taped" as being of Washington Post caliber. His way of thinking promotes chances within the navy's generous ranks.

More importantly, however, the "incentive" created by the FP question serves to emphasize that just because, by preference, we operate in the "deep South," the local "South" estate" incidents are not lacking in either their responsibilities or reader and wire-service obligations.

If because of this we get "taped" with the Washington Post, so be it. We could do a lot worse.

After all, the who, what, when, where, and why, particularly the what and why, apply equally to the Navy in Mississippi as they do to the same service in Washington, D. C.

"News From Your Mansion"

By Carroll Waller

There was certainly a lot to be thankful for at your Governor's Mansion this year.

The celebration of the 100th anniversary of the 1865 was completed. It was recognized as a National Historic Landmark - one of only two executive residences in the United States to be so honored. More than 100,000 people, from all over the world, came to the Mansion to see the celebration and to see the Governor and his family.

Since we are the Governor's Mansion, we have a lot to be thankful for. We have a beautiful house, we have a beautiful garden, we have a beautiful view, and we have a beautiful family.

I was really "battered" two days early. After having spent a wonderful day visiting with students and other friends in Washington and having the most delightful party for the 100th Anniversary. I got back to the Mansion and almost had an early Christmas.

Victory has returned, we could not have been so lucky. A number of our antique had arrived that day. The Christmas for the room had arrived that day. There was an island and a beautiful table that is "the" collection that was a very beautiful antique. There was also a desk of drawers, a side table, and a new carpet for the entire living room.

The Governor has added a lot to the look of the Mansion, although the fact that the carpet was being laid in two rooms made for a jammed up tour by the Black County Homeowners on Wednesday morning.

Since I was back, many groups have visited. The Battle Guild held a reception with outdoor entertainment in the style of the low temperature, and about 400 fans attended an open house before the 100th State game.

A beautiful new silver service was also given to the Mansion. This much needed addition was presented by Gay and Gwyn, under women's honor society at Mississippi College. The service included a large tray, coffee service, creamer and sugar dish. The design is the "Winthrop" pattern already in use at the Mansion and pieces were also ordered with the silver set. This beautiful silver will be used one during the holiday season ahead.

Two Centuries of Progress

Many times a family's lifetime of struggle, heartaches and work have been wiped out in a very short time due to the devastation of a raging fire.

Fortunately, when our cry for help went out early Sunday morning, November 23, 1975, four fire departments rushed to our assistance. The East Hancock, Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead Fire Departments worked tirelessly and courageously in an attempt to save our home. Although, the upper floor was destroyed, and extensive damage was suffered throughout the first floor, the firemen are to be commended for doing an outstanding job. The cooperation of the four departments working together in a joint effort was tremendous.

The first aid rendered to Mr. Woods by Mr. Eddie Feltous, Diamondhead Fire Department and Mr. Lee Farrell, Waveland Fire Department and others was greatly appreciated and these gentlemen are to be commended for a job well done.

Due to the efforts of the many friends, neighbors, firemen and others, the major portion of the household furnishings on the first floor were saved. It is wonderful to live in a community where everyone pitches in to lend a helping hand when it is needed most. To all of these people we are forever grateful and to each of you we humbly offer our thanks. May each and every one of you have a safe and happy holiday season.

May we encourage all citizens to support our fire departments because they are there when we need them and give us their best efforts.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Woods

On Tuesday, Nov. 4, we took the time to go to the polls to vote. We had the option of voting for or against Attorney General A. F. Summer. I lost my vote, I don't mind losing a vote, but it really annoys me to lose to an already stagnant link in our government.

On Nov. 12, just nine days after another four years of stagnation was voted in, I read in the paper where the Mississippi Economic Council has called on Mr. Summer to correct abuses in 16th section school land leasing, declaring that some of the "agreements" amount to paltry donations. This request comes from MEC president Walter L. Ellis III, Koshutsko. Power to you Mr. Ellis, but why didn't you have the foresight to bring this to the public just ten days earlier and maybe that majority would have seen things the way I did, and today with a new attorney general preparing to take office, we could look for an even 50-50 chance of getting some action in that branch of government, but with the same old boss we are dead sure of only getting the old 100 percent of nothing.

Recent court decisions made it clear that the attorney general has the authority to correct these abuses, but Summer has already "slipped" under the table and belittled out that the 1974 legislature also gave the school boards "veto" power over leases approved by county supervisors. (Slick put aside).

Summer did state "from under the table" that he would check individual cases called to his attention, but a wide scale review would be impossible and expensive. Who believes that he is going to check anything when he is one of those who has also profited, $178,000 from his 16th section sublease which he has leased for about a dollar an acre. If he is interested in checking individual cases, why doesn't he start with his own?

Mr. Summer campaigned on the issue that he loved the people of Mississippi and his only desire was to serve us and to help us "out." We are really being helped "out," but where is the service? Apparently the only thing he loves about us is our stupidity of giving him another four years of being master.

If he too goes along with abusing the "legal version" (and these leases are "legal," honorable? no!), of the law by depriving every child in the state of part of his inherited livelihood, then what can we love the voters for, except for their vote?

The legislature gave him the power to make these corrections, now let's make double sure that our legislators see to it that he carries out these duties, or let's make sure we get a new attorney general in 1979 along with a bunch of new legislators.

As a parent of two teenagers, I find that on this Thanksgiving Day I have much to be thankful for. One benefit that stands out in particular is the new movement in our community to interest our young people to take part in the various social services along the Coast.

Just recently over 100 teenagers from four schools entertained 50 Vietnamese children and their interpreters at an all day picnic here in Bay St. Louis. Your paper was notified in advance about this activity, yet you didn't think it important enough to send a reporter and photographer to report on this worthy project.

If one hundred teenagers were to be caught at a pot party or if they were to riot in front of their schools, you and your staff would consider that news worthy material; no doubt, there even would be television coverage of such unhappy and unfortunate behavior. Could you explain to us why you failed to encourage the good these 100 teenagers were doing on Saturday, November 22, 1975?

A puzzled subscriber,
Mr. L. J. Carriere

I would like to express, through this paper, my heartfelt thanks to the entire staff of Hancock General Hospital for the wonderful care and the many kindnesses extended to my husband and my family during his illness. Also to the Mobile Medical Ambulance Service for their prompt and expert service when they were called, my thanks.

A special thank you to Dr. Levens for all his help when help was needed.

Then too, for the spiritual help and consolation needed, Father C. Hayes, pastor of the Church of St. Ann, Clamont Harbor, thank you.

Lastly to all our friends who were so helpful and thoughtful at this time, many, many thanks.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Frank J. Corcoran

SAME OLD SONG
AND DANCE

Keeping up with the debate on New York City's financial crisis is like keeping up with a soap opera.

Regardless of when you tune in, you're going to get the same old song and dance: New York City is broke and they want taxpayers in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, to pick up the tab.

Just so their kids can continue to get a FREE college education in Fun City. Just so that New York City employees can enjoy fringe benefits and paid retirement costs which average more than 50 percent of their base pay. Just so that they can continue to receive four-week paid vacations and unlimited sick leave after only one year on the job.

Just so that folks in the Big Apple can continue to kick up their heels. "No question about it," one of my colleagues in the House recently wrote in dissenting views to H. R. 10481, generally known as the New York City bailout bill. "The good life is appealing if you can stretch your credit and don't have to face up to the question of paying for it. The numbers tell the story. In the past decade, New York City politicians have allowed the City's budget to triple. Expenses have increased by an average of 10 percent a year while the revenues were increasing by only four to five percent. The moment of reality has arrived."

That pretty well sums it up, my friends. New York City wants to keep on living like kings. They just don't want to pay for it.

H. R. 10481, the Intergovernmental Emergency Assistance Act, is nothing more than an effort to provide federal assistance to New York City and other municipalities that back themselves to the wall. It would set up the Intergovernmental Emergency Assistance Board, which would be vested with the power to issue loan guarantees to troubled cities and states.

The bill bothers me for several reasons. For one thing, the bill's sponsors will tell you that it requires a balanced budget within two years.

When you press them on it, however, you learn that they're talking about balancing operating expenses with revenues.

That's not a balanced budget. "Operating expenses" is a term that doesn't include payment on debts, pension funds, and a bundle of other expenses.

The sheer truth of the matter is that New York City STILL hasn't taken any serious steps to correct its deficiencies. They have made no moves to trim their bloated budget.

Granted, New York state legislators have called for a tax increase - and that's a step in the right direction - but they still haven't cured the disease.

And there has been no indication that they've even considered such drastic measures as dropping free college education or reducing the salaries of city workers or closing some of their half-empty hospitals or even reducing the size of the welfare load in the city.

I agree completely with the President's mid-November evaluation of H. R. 10481: "This bailout bill now before the House of Representatives is irrelevant because it does not address the current situation and I would veto it."

The President did go on to say that he would consider appropriate legislation if New York decides to bite the bullet and implement some cost-saving measures of their own. He also asked the Congress to once again consider special amendments to the federal bankruptcy laws which would make a default orderly if it occurs.

New York City officials have said that they can meet their obligations until December 31. They don't realize that they haven't even begun to meet their real obligations.

As we approach that showdown date, I will continue to insist that we exercise restraint, common sense, and sound judgment. I urge the President and the Congress to do the same.

Weekly news summary

Waller says state will end fiscal '76 in black

Governor Bill Waller said last week that Mississippi will end fiscal year 1976 with a $24 million surplus in the State Treasury.

In a speech before some 200 civic leaders in Oxford, Waller said, "Your State is not broke and we are not in the red."

Waller said, "On June 30, 1976, after all obligations against the general fund are paid for the year, the estimated general fund surplus will be $24,000,000."

The Governor noted that approximately half of all State revenues are derived from the sales tax. "Although the spending pattern of Mississippi consumers during this recession period has resulted in a reduction in anticipated tax collections, revenue from these sources exceeds those of the same month of last year. There was a marginal increase in collections in September and October."

Waller said that State tax collections for the first three months of this fiscal year are running 15 percent above of Budget Commission estimates and over 77 percent higher than last year.

ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

The second annual Governor's Conference on Economic Development is being held this week in Jackson, according to Dr. Robert L. Robinson, Director of the Mississippi Agricultural & Mechanical Board.

Robinson said that the conference, scheduled for December 4 and 5 at the Holiday Inn Downtown, will seek to give Mississippians involved in economic development the knowledge and tools necessary to further our growth.

"We will look at Mississippi's problems, our needs, our growth, and where we will go from here," Robinson added.

Robinson said that Alan Greenstein, Chairman of the President's Council on Economic Advisors, will head an impressive list of speakers for the conference.

ADVISING STATE NATION: Governor L. Waller has appointed the Advisory Council in Speech Pathology and Audiology to serve as an advisory body to the State Board of Health in matters involving the licensure of speech pathologists and audiologists.

Members of the committee include Mrs. Betty Blackbourne of Starkville, Mrs. Jack Hammett of Meridian, Dr. Omer Mathews of Jackson, Mrs. Tilla Wren Day of Jackson, and Dr. Harold Hudson of Tupelo.

San Vahnsine, Director of Child Care Services, has been assigned administrative responsibilities for the licensure of speech pathologists.

Bicentennial News

BY JOE PILET

Our heritage is rich in legends - those stories handed down from generation to generation and although not verifiable are popularly believed to have some historical basis. The legend of a great mound called Nanih Waiya is worth preserving for our generations to come.

According to Henry Halbert, one of Mississippi's greatest Indian authorities, there lived many years ago an Indian tribe ruled by two brothers whose names were Chahta and Chilasa. The tribe grew in number to the extent it seemed wise to search for more fertile lands and more bountiful hunting areas that these happy people might be well fed.

The tribe was divided into groups spaced some distance apart, and the Great Prophet marched at the head of the foremost group. He carried a pole and planted it erect in the ground in front of the camp at the end of each day's march. Each morning the pole would be found leaning in the direction the people were to travel.

After many months of marching and camping the tribe came to a creek and they camped on the banks where the prophet placed his pole at the base of a mound. The next morning the pole still stood erect, and the prophet announced that the Great Spirit called the mound Nanih Waiya and it was here the people should establish a settlement. Chahta's group gave thanks for this land of bounty, but Chilasa's group crossed the creek and camped on the east side. A rainstorm during the night flooded the lowlands so the creek called Nanih

Waiya and other tributaries of the Pearl River could not be crossed so Chilasa and his party moved on to the Tombigbee River to become a separate tribe called the Chickasaws. Descendants of Chilasa had a large settlement about three miles square and divided into seven villages.

The followers of Chahta were too numerous to remain under the leadership of one chief. They were the strongest Indian tribe in Mississippi and at one time owned half of the territory within the state. Each chief was called a Mingo. Honest and trustworthy in their dealings they were said to make good friends and had enemies - never forgetting a favor - nor forgiving an injury. They wore fine ornaments, were physically strong and fond of games and dancing.

A settlement of these Choctaws now near Philadelphia, Mississippi keeps alive the legend of Nanih Waiya. The musical Choctaw language is used in the homes and taught in the lower grades of the schools. Nanih Waiya mound is looked upon as the birthplace of the tribe. The arts, crafts, dances, songs, and way of life are kept much in the manner of the days of their revered ancestor, Chahta. Each year these gently, dark eyed people entertain guests at their fairground and through programs and exhibits keep alive the legends of the Choctaws.

Editor's note: The following addendum was offered by Hancock County Superintendent of Education K. G. McCarty.

Directed about 1800 years ago, Nanih Waiya Mound is a sacred ground to Mississippi Choctaw Indians and is referred to as their "Mother." Dirt was heaped in conical baskets until the mound was 60 feet high and 100 by 340 feet at the base. The mound was the center of a fortified city, which had a rampart encircling it two arrow flights distant on all sides.

Construction required eight years. Gradually reduced it to its present size and condition.

Here in 1929, Col. Greenwood Leflore held the only "National Council" of Indians ever held in the U. S. A.

USM releases Coast hotel, motel study

A special report on the hotel-motel industry in Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson Counties has just been released by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Southern Mississippi.

Prepared by Dr. Charles P. Cartee and titled "The Mississippi Gulf Coast Lodging Industry," it traces and analyzes quarterly lodging sales from 1968-1975 by individual Gulf Coast counties and the three-county area.

The document is in sharp contrast with statements that travel and tourism mean very little to the Mississippi Gulf Coast economy and that the industry's importance to the area's economic well being is really quite insignificant. The contention is advanced that such a conclusion is inaccurate and unwarranted, especially as related to Harrison County.

As an overview, the data showed that during the 1968-1974 interval lodging sales (in current dollars) increased from $426 thousand to $501 thousand, or 17.6 percent, in Hancock County; moved from $2.16 to $3.32 million, or 54 percent, in Jackson County; and rose from $11.1 to $18.8 million, or 68 percent, in Harrison County. Of the three-county area, historical data showed that Harrison consistently accounted for about 82 percent of the total, Jackson about 15 percent, and Hancock about 3 percent.

The relative importance of lodging sales to the retail sales base was found to be much greater in Harrison as compared to the other two counties. In 1974 lodging sales as a percent of total county retail sales was found to be 3.8 percent in Harrison versus the comparable percentage of only 1.0 in Jackson and 1.2 in Hancock Counties.

A specific comparison of the lodging industry in Harrison County to the State's lodging industry was also made. In terms of number of reporting lodging facilities, employees, and payrolls the 1973 data showed that Harrison County accounted for almost 12 percent of all facilities, almost 25 percent of the employees, and almost 28 percent of the payrolls associated with the lodging industry in Mississippi, the largest proportion of any county in the state by far.

The report also provides data on lodging sales by months for each of the three counties from 1971-1974 and estimates lodging utilization ratios for Harrison County during this interval to isolate the cyclical patterns of the industry.

The Bureau of Business Research maintains an ongoing program of tourism and travel research on the Coast which is published as the "Mississippi Gulf Coast Tourist Industry Quarterly Report." This report may be received by contacting Bureau of Business Research, College of Business Administration, University of Southern Mississippi, Southern Station Box 94, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39401.

Sheriff's office has 'hot line' installed

A telephone 'hot line' was installed in Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner's office Monday on action by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Ladner said the new telephone system would enable those Hancock County residents living north of Kiln and listed in the Picayune telephone directory to call his office at 798-8778 at no charge.

Chancery Clerk John Rutherford said future plans call for the hot line to link callers with his office and that of Tax Assessor George Heitzman also.

INTENTION TO CREATE KILN WATER AND FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

The Board of Supervisors took up for consideration the matter of the incorporation of a combined water and fire protection district within Hancock County, Mississippi, with the corporate name "Kiln Water and Fire Protection District of Hancock County, Mississippi" as authorized by Chapter 433, Laws of 1973. After a general discussion of the subject, Supervisor Lader offered and moved the adoption of the following Resolution:

VA sets course fees, rebates

The Veterans Administration has issued a reminder to veterans and dependents enrolled in or considering a correspondence course under the GI Bill that special legislation gives them added protection from possible fraud or abuse by some operators of such schools.
The law protects veterans from costly payments when they cancel a course before reaching the half-way mark, and provides a 10 day "cooling off" period from the time the veteran signs an application for a correspondence course.
Under this provision, after the 10 days the veteran must affirm in writing to the VA that he is going to take the course.

Should he decide not to pursue the course before completing the notice to the VA, he must advise the school of his decision and it must make a prompt refund of the total amount paid by the veteran or eligible dependent.
In these circumstances, of course, the school would be entitled to the return of any course material already provided.
If the veteran or dependent completes 25 percent or less of a correspondence course and then quits, the school may retain the registration fee (not to exceed $50) plus 25 percent of the course cost. If between 25 and 60 percent of a course is completed, the school may retain half the course cost plus the registration fee.

Students failing to complete non-accredited courses may be charged the registration fee (not to exceed $10) and the cost of that portion of the course actually completed.
The law also requires the school to furnish the veteran or dependent student a fully completed copy of the enrollment agreement.
This agreement must include a full disclosure of the obligations under the contract, a clear explanation of the provisions for affirmation, termination and refund, and a statement of the condition under which VA payments for the course will be made.
The VA advised any veteran or dependent having questions concerning correspondence courses under the GI Bill to contact the nearest Veterans Administration office.

Home economist tells tree decorating tips

The tradition of a decorated Christmas tree in the United States may date back to the Revolutionary War when homesick Hessians cut and decorated fir trees as was their German custom.

Since then, the Christmas tree has come to represent the Yuletide season. It is the mainstay of both indoor and outdoor holiday decorations, explains Mississippi Power Company home economist Mary Lou Richards.

"Today," she said, "many families prefer to use and decorate artificial Christmas trees, but there are still many who prefer the traditional live tree with its fragrance and freshness."

St. Ann's News

Sister Daniel Elizabeth outlined her work with catechism classes for Gulfview elementary students and activities with the Parish CYO at Tuesday's Gulfview PTO meeting.

CYO members provided baby sitting services for parents attending the meeting.

Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church, invites members of the Parish interested in forming a choir to attend practice at 8 p.m. tonight at the church in preparation for Christmas midnight Mass.

Sister Daniel Elizabeth will direct the group.

St. Ann's Altar Society will sponsor a benefit social Saturday, Dec. 6, starting at 7:30 p.m. in Parish Hall, Lower Bay Road, Clermont Harbor. Donation will be $1. A door prize will be awarded.

The public is invited.

Father Hayes announced Masses Dec. 8, Feast of the Immaculate Conception, will be at 9 a.m. at St. John's Church, Lakeshore, and at 7 p.m. at St. Ann's, Clermont Harbor.

the particular species.

"After the tree is purchased, these 'care' and precaution measures should be followed to help insure that an attractive tree stays fresh and that you will have a holiday season free from Christmas tree mishaps," Ms. Richards explained.

If you buy your tree several days before it will be set up and decorated, store the tree outside. Cut the end of the tree at a diagonal about one inch above the original cut to aid in the absorption of water. Place the tree in a container of water.

When the tree is brought into the house, saw the end, squaring off the diagonal. This facilitates placing the tree in a stand and helps absorption.

Keep the end of the tree in a container of water the entire time it is in the house. Refill the container daily as the tree requires a lot of water. Sprinkling water on the branches and needles before you decorate the tree will help retain freshness.

Be sure that the base of the tree is well supported and the tree is placed away from fireplaces, heaters, televisions, or other sources of heat.

Open flames, such as lighted candles, should never be used on or near the tree. In addition, never leave your home with the Christmas tree lights still on.

The longer the tree is indoors, the more combustible it will become. Check electric light cords for fraying and worn spots that could easily lead to fire. Do not overload the electric circuits, and avoid placing electric toys directly under the tree. Be sure to avoid the use of combustible decorations.

Many families continue to enjoy holiday lighting as part of the seasonal decorating activities. Ms. Richards offers the following energy-saving hints for holiday lighting:

Use midget lights for decorating rather than the regular Christmas tree lights—200 midget bulbs use only 72 watts; the twinkling type, use half of 72 watts since they are "asleep" half the time. Turn off one 75-watt bulb for every 200 midget bulbs used in decorating. Turn off two 100-watt bulbs for every 25 standard C-7 Christmas bulbs used.

Cut down the number of lights recommended for decorating your tree to one-half, and double the amount of tinsel, icicles, and other reflective ornaments.

For aluminum and white trees, use no lighting, just decorations and, and use a

Mississippi farmers to receive survey '75 questionnaires

A sample of Mississippi farmers will receive a questionnaire during the first week of December pertaining to their 1975 crop acreage and production.

Dick Knight, Statistician in Charge of the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, said the survey will be conducted to gather information concerning the acreage and production of crops grown in 1975. Approximately 15,000 Mississippi farmers will be asked to complete these questionnaires. Since crop production accounted for nearly 59 percent of the State's cash farm income in 1974, it is important that the results be as accurate as possible. Because of this, Dick stressed the need for farmers who receive the questionnaires to fill them out and return them promptly.

State Statisticians use the findings from this survey and data supplied by other farmers from the enumerative survey to be conducted the last week of November to determine county, state and national estimates. All information on individual farms is kept confidential.

A report on the survey will be published Jan. 15, 1976.

State hospital group endorses Medic Alert

The Mississippi Hospital Association has announced its endorsement of the Medic Alert Foundation International lifesaving program and will work to extend the emergency medical identification system to individuals needing its protection.

The action follows a like endorsement of the medical identification system by the American Hospital Association.

Chandler Clover, Jackson, chairman, Board of Governors, MHA, said Medic Alert is a nonprofit, charitable, and tax-exempt foundation whose only purpose is to provide protection to individuals with hidden medical problems or conditions that cannot be easily seen or recognized.

Allergy to penicillin, diabetes, heart condition, taking anticoagulants, and wearing contact lenses are the top reasons for Medic Alert membership, although there are over 200 common reasons for persons needing the protection," he said.

Medic Alert is designed to speak for the individual when that person is unconscious or unable to communicate his medical problem. Members wear an emblem, either as a bracelet or necklace, having his medical problem or problems engraved thereon, along with the telephone number of an Emergency Answering Service. If emergency personnel attending the patient need additional information, they can call from any location in the world, around the clock, and receive all the required personal and medical information within seconds.

Clover said the American Medical Association estimates that 40 million Americans, or one out of every five persons, have a hidden or special medical problem or problems.

"Each of these is a candidate for membership in this world-recognized organization that saves lives daily," he said.

He pointed out that in a recent 12-month period, over 2,000 persons notified Medic Alert that its system of protection had contributed to the saving of their lives.

Although each member can update his emergency record at any time, Medic Alert sends to each member every year a computer-printout of his entire emergency record so that it can be verified for accuracy. Hospitals participating in the Medic Alert program display the informational folder "This Could Save Your Life," which contains an application for membership. Individuals desiring Medic Alert information can visit their local hospitals that are participating in the program, or they can write directly to Medic Alert Foundation, Turlock, California 95380.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mason
Bride is former Debra Lucas

Debra Lucas weds John C. Mason

Miss Debra Janice Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Lucas of Waveland, Kan., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Homer V. Mason of Oklahoma City, Okla., were married Saturday, Nov. 29 at an evening ceremony at Christ Episcopal Church.

Dr. Gilbert Oliver performed the double ring ceremony before an illuminated altar flanked by vases of carnations, baby's breath and ivy. Pews were lighted with candles entwined with ivy and carnations. At the rear of the church stood candelabras and a floral arrangement of carnations, baby's breath and ivy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-sleeved white Empire style gown of satin backed crepe. Beaded roses and ivy accented the cuffs, shoulders and bodice. Her veil of imported illusion fell to calf length and rested on the three foot train of the dress. Beaded roses formed the headpiece of the veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, blue baby's breath, and ivy.

Mrs. Danny Sheffield, Waveland, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ms. Linda Carol, Bay St. Louis, and Cindy Lucas, sister of the bride, Waveland. Miss Michelle Ashman, Waveland, was flower girl.

Dr. Bruce Darrow, Oklahoma City, attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Donald Lightfoot, uncle of the bride, Dundas, Ontario, Canada and Jefferson Debenport, Pass Christian. Master Phillip Hays Hart, Waveland, served as ringbearer and ushers were Donald Diboll, Waveland, and A.M. DeBarneure, Gulfport.

A traditional Canadian dinner was held in the American Legion Home immediately following the ceremony. The white-clothed tables were decorated with votive lights and ivy and the head table was flanked with silver candelabra and running ivy. The centerpiece was of white carnations and baby's breath.

A seventeen light candelabra entwined with ivy decorated the buffet table. The cake table held a three tiered traditional Canadian style wedding cake which was made by Miss Kay Wilson, aunt of the bride. It was decorated with ivy, candles, carnations, and baby's breath.

Miss Charlene Ladner, Bay St. Louis, presided at the guest register.

The bride's attendants wore full length deep blue Empire style gowns with long sleeves and long sashes which tied in the back. They carried

For their honeymoon to Texas and Oklahoma, the bride wore a rose-colored suit with brown accessories.

Senior Citizens Happenings

By DON MAUFFRAY

Our Thanksgiving dinners again this year were simply delicious, to say the least. First, Mrs. Irma Cuevas and her crew of volunteers held their annual dinner at the Community Center in Pearlton with Mr. "Tip" Johnson and his band entertaining with their top-tapping music. Next day, Kim Memorial Post No. 5285 of the V.F.W. treated the senior citizens of Kiln and surrounding communities to a most delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings—and more. Mrs. Betty Carroll of Waveland played the piano for this occasion where there were over 75 in attendance.

Last, the Bay-Waveland Senior Citizens Thanksgiving party was held at the VCI Center with Mrs. T. A. Tedford, Jr. and her Bay Hill Choral Group entertaining. We are looking forward to Mrs. Tedford returning on Tuesday, Dec. 16 with her Senior Choral Group to entertain us for our Christmas Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Mauffray donated the delicious sandwiches, punch, and cake for our Thanksgiving party. Also Mrs. Bea Favre made some delicious cakes. Our Senior Citizens Choral Group sang for the 11 a.m. services at Main Street Methodist Church on Sunday, Nov. 23, and also at the annual Interfaith Community Thanksgiving Services which were held this year at St. Rose de Lima Church on Wednesday, Nov. 25. We will be singing Christmas Carols every Wednesday afternoon until the holidays from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. at Gulfview Haven Nursing Home.

This coming Monday, Dec. 8th, at 1:30 p.m. we will have our monthly free bingo games with refreshments at the VCI Center. That night, beginning at 7:00 p.m., there will be benefit games at Pearlton Community Center to which the public is cordially invited.

Our employees have pledged 100 percent to the United Way, of which we are an agency. I would like to take this means to ask those of you who have not as yet done so to please contribute to this worthy cause.

Tourists in Papeete, Tahiti can pick their own fresh fruit from the trees in the landscaped courtyard of the new Holiday Inn there.

DO YOU HAVE A DRINKING PROBLEM? Help is available through Alcoholics Anonymous for the problem drinker, and through Al-Anon for his or her family. Call 467-6414 for AA and Al-Anon information. Al-Anon meets Mondays 8:00 P.M., St. Augustine Seminary cafeteria.

Family gathers to celebrate 75th birthday

Mrs. A.G. Favre was honored on the occasion of her 75th birthday with a party Saturday evening at her Felicity Street home hosted by her daughters Miss Odell Favre, Mrs. Charles Sciana and Mrs. Thomas Pope.

The refreshment table was centered with a cake in the shape of the numerals 75 flanked by arrangements of yellow and white flowers.

Also cutting birthday cakes were Mrs. Favre's son Curtis, who celebrated his 50th, and her grandson Christian Favre who was 16.

Approximately 85 members of the family attended.

Project Do plans

Christmas party

A Senior Citizens Party, sponsored by the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade members of Project Do, has been set for 2 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 14, at Gulf View Haven, according to Brother Canibus Schell, director.

Professional entertainers from New Orleans are scheduled to provide the fun, and Gulf View Nursing Home is to provide the refreshments. The party is open to all senior citizens in the community.

Project Do members have been asked to arrive well ahead of time, at least by 1:30 p.m., to set up chairs, escort the guests, and serve the refreshments.

Coming from out-of-town for the occasion were Mrs. Favre's sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Favre and children Christian and Libby of Deer Park, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Favre, Bruce Jr., Marina, Bettina, Gabrielle and Franz Josef, Orange Park, Fla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Favre, Monica and Jeffrey, Corpus Christi, Tex.; her grandsons Peter and Paul Sciana of Hattiesburg, and Charles Sciana Jr. and Stephen Sciana of Pasadena, Tex., with their wives.

In the British Army, the men of the 76th Foot were called "The Immortals" because so many were wounded, but not killed, in India (1788-1805).

Poppy sale commemorates Pearl Harbor

Alvin Brockway and Isabel Terrell, post-war auxiliary Buddy Poppy Chairmen for Post No. 5931, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announce their Poppy sale Dec. 5-6 in the Pass Christian area.

"In remembrance of Pearl Harbor Day, this sale is being held so that everyone can wear their Buddy Poppy Dec. 7th, commemorating the memory of veterans who died that day," Brockway said.

VFW Buddy Poppy is a symbol of the sacrifices made by the nation's war dead in the great conflicts for peace, he added.

The Buddy Poppy will be sold by volunteers of Post No. 5931 it's Ladies Auxiliary and the Junior Girl Unit. All proceeds will go to relief and welfare of the needy veteran, his widow and orphans.

Ms. Dorothy Phillips, Bay St. Louis, represented Gulfport Memorial Hospital at a University of Mississippi Medical Center workshop on preventing and controlling hospital infections.

More than 100 nurses, hospital administrators, and physicians participated in the one-day session. They studied cause, frequency, and location of infection outbreaks and learned to develop control programs to regulate trouble making bacteria.

The University of Mississippi School of Nursing and Medical Center Division of Continuing Health Professional Education sponsored the event.

ALL STATE - Eight Pearl River Wildcats have been selected as Mississippi Junior College All-State for the 1975 season. Ricky Cuevas (back left) of Lumberton, was named the South's outstanding defensive lineman, while Sam Piazza (right front) of Bay St. Louis, was tapped as the conference's best offensive lineman. Tony Walker (back right) was back runnerup to Perk's Mike Sekul for the outstanding Back award. Walker lost after three votings. Others shown are (front left) Don Hall of Columbia, defensive back; (Back row from left) Cuevas; Randy Anderson, Purvis, defensive secondary; Ed Porter, Bay St. Louis, All-Star; Rusty Cavataio, Memphis, fullback; Steve Moody, defensive tackle, Petal, All-Star; Walker. All Star players participated in the annual junior college All-Star game in Tupelo last Thanksgiving. All-State players were also All-Stars.

PRJC All Stars given credit for helping South over North

POPLARVILLE -- Pearl River Junior College was well represented in the South's 12-3 win over the North All-Stars in the annual Thanksgiving JuCo All-Star Classic.

Head coach J.C. Arban, his staff and seven Wildcats were instrumental in the South's third win over the North in the five game series. Pearl River coached teams have won two of their three attempts at the Classic title.

The Wildcats' middle guard, Ricky Cuevas, was voted the game's top defensive player. Cuevas had already received the recognition as the South Division best defensive lineman, while making All-State.

"I was real proud of our players' effort," Arban said. "They did an outstanding job performing as well as leading the other players." Fullback Rusty Cavataio did an outstanding job running the ball and giving directions to the other backs that were not familiar with the Cat offense.

"Rusty was in the running for the games' top offensive back," Arban commented, "but he was nosed out by James Williams of Southwest who scored two touchdowns." "Cuevas did an outstanding job," the head coach said. Randy Anderson and Steve Moody were cited as being very tough on defense.

Offensively the Wildcats had Tony Walker at quarterback, along with Cavataio and Sam Piazza and Ed Porter on the line. "Walker ran real well but had problems getting hooked up with his receivers," Arban said. "We only practiced four times and Tony had a few problems getting hooked up with his receivers," Arban added.

Porter and Piazza were noted for their efforts up front. "Overall I was very pleased with the Wildcats' performance and the play of the other South Squad members. More time to practice would have helped the timing of the players, giving a more precision look," Arban commented. "However, the real point of the game is to give the JuCo players an opportunity to display their talents to college scouts."

"Our players were interviewed by several universities and they left with good impressions of their capabilities," the PRC head coach said.

All of the game's scoring came in the first quarter. Williams had a 19-yard touchdown run in the opening minutes after Eugene Davis of Hinds recovered a fumble at the North 24.

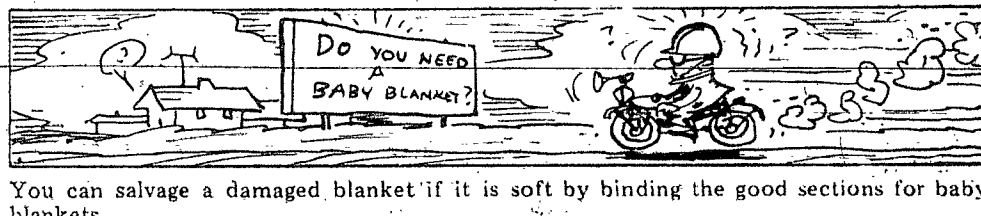

Philip Brazell of East Central and the North kicked a 23-yard field goal later in the quarter and the South's Williams returned the ensuing kick 49 yards for his second touchdown.

Brazell's field goal was set up by an interception return to the South 11. The North penetrated to the one but was stopped and had to settle for a field goal.

Brazell missed a 42-yard field goal attempt just before halftime. The South threatened in the second half, driving from its 14 to the North seven before an interception by Robert Downing of Northwest.

The victory gave the South a 3-2 edge in the annual post-season contest. Ken Pouncey of East Central coached the North squad.

Tigers continue strong showing with 63-53 upset over Ocean Springs

Tiger basketball was very much in the mind this week as Coach Mike Nacaise's tigers secured their fourth win of the early season with a 63-53 upset over Ocean Springs Tuesday night at Ocean Springs. The latest victory gives the young tigers a 4-1 record and a tremendous start into the still young season. The tigers only loss came in a near upset of Hamilton Central which was won by the Red Rebels on a pair of free throws 72-71.

In Nacaise's action Tuesday night, the Bay girls triumphed Ocean Springs 42-24 led by Connie Payne with 18 points followed by Cindy Stiefel and Charlene Raynes with 10 points each. The tigers are 4-1 now.

The only loss Tuesday was in a team action with Ocean Springs winning that contest 40-22. Doug Miller was the leading scorer for the tigers with 12 points. The tigers were given a birthday surprise this week when last year's starter Bill Cinn returned to the Tiger lineup.

"Bill played real strong on the boards for us Tuesday," Nacaise said. "Bill's height will be a big plus in the Tiger lineup."

The Tiger offensive punch against the Greyhounds scoring 23 points for the night. Paul Sawyer had 13 points for the night.

Payne is averaging about 12 points a game presently. Nacaise said Wednesday.

while the team as a whole is averaging 24 points a game presently. The tigers have scored an average 22 points against them.

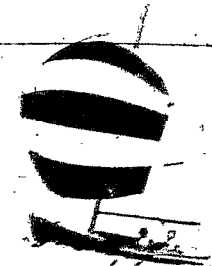

The tigers will play St. Stanislaus at 8 p.m. Thursday night in the Pass Christian High School Tournament at Pass High School. The tigers will meet St. John Friday and finally Pass High Saturday also in games scheduled for 9 p.m.

Wildlife group schedules summit outing in Rockies

The National Wildlife Federation (NWF), the nation's largest conservation education organization, has scheduled a "Colorado in Winter Conservation Summit" to be held at the YMCA of the Rockies, near Estes Park, Colo., from Dec. 27 - Jan. 1.

Open to singles, couples, and families, the five-day outing will offer participants "a rare chance to live with and learn about nature in the stillness of a high-country winter," according to the non-profit NWF. The program includes indoor and outdoor classes in such subjects as winter photography, cross-country skiing, outdoor cooking, and snow survival. There will be field trips to observe big game animals and small alpine birds and evening programs with square dancing, slide shows and "think tank" discussions of environmental issues.

One of the four NWF "summits" held yearly, each in a different region of the United States, the Colorado winter outing is designed for outdoor enthusiasts of all ages, with special programs for youngsters from five to 25. Further information may be obtained by writing to Conservation Summit, Department CW, National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20033.

— STEAK ON A BUDGET —
Longing for sirloin or a T-bone steak on a ground beef budget? W-D Brand U.S. Choice round steak—with a little help from a marinade—can be just as tender, juicy and flavorful. Steak tastes best when cooked on an open grill over a fire with well-heated coals coated with gray ash. Cook meat 4 or 5 inches from the heat so that the steak will not become completely charred and still be cooked in the center. If a charred steak is desirable with rare interior, cook meat closer to the heat.

Ladner's "Charlie" doesn't mind mud--just ruts

(Special to The Echo)
PEARL RIVER, LA. — Charlie didn't mind the muddy track Sunday at Oak Downs, but he was a little confused at the finish line.

Owned by Jeffrey Ladner and trained by Delbert Cuevas (both of Hancock County), Charlie fell behind by as much as six lengths in a five-furlong race against Mr. Frank.

After turning for home, Charlie put on a furious charge to catch up with his opponent. With Ralph Shubert, the track's leading jockey in the irons, Charlie was pulling away from his opponent.

But approaching the finish line, Charlie started slowing down quickly.

Charlie won by one-half length as Mr. Frank pulled close at the end.

Why did Charlie slow down all of a sudden? The answer was that when the starting gate was removed from the track for the muddy race, a groove was inadvertently cut in the sloppy track by an unraced tire.

Apparently, the groove appeared to be some sort of barrier when approached by Charlie and Charlie didn't like it.

In other races won by Hancock County horses, Delbert Cuevas' Miss Allyson captured the five-furlong ninth, and Lesli Dedaux' Lightning Bar Tag won the 440-yard sixth while his Bam Bars took the 440-yard 12th.

Sunday's results:
1) 5 furlongs, Windfield Road, 1:06.84, Walter Despit, owner and trainer; Dennis Ory, jockey, Bashful Scholar, 1:07.44.
2) 380 yards, Indian Ed,

22.05 seconds, Jerry Hall, owner; Joey Mott, trainer; Ralph Shubert, jockey. Super Fanny 23.215.

Ole Miss steers toward Texas Longhorns

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — After three season-launching contests on campus, Ole Miss takes to the road this weekend with a Saturday night date against Texas in Austin.

The Rebels were 2-0 into Wednesday night's encounter with Minnesota-Duluth having downed Missouri Western 80-60 on Saturday and Indiana State-Francisville 66-64 on Monday night.

And venturing into Longhorn territory, the Johnny Rebs will be playing their fourth game in eight days.

Texas Tech here on Monday completes a 10-day, five-game slate that concludes pre-examination activity. The Red Raiders, with pre-season All-American center Rick Bullock, upset initially under-ranked Kansas State last Saturday.

Texas got its 1976 campaign off to a rousing start Monday night whipping favored Oklahoma 60-55 in Norman. The Longhorns played Oklahoma State Wednesday night in Stillwater.

Texas leads the Rebs in this 13-game series, 7-6, though Ole Miss has claimed the last five decisions.

Last December the Rebs held off a second-half Longhorn rally and won 82-74. Coach Robert "Cob" Jarvis' Rebel outfit was victorious 75-59 in Austin two seasons back and won 79-76 in 1972.

With junior guard John Billips still hampered by a shoulder injury, Jarvis will likely stick with the same lineup utilized recently.

That would call for 6-1 junior Jim Varner at point guard with 6-5 senior Harvey Murray at a wing slot. In the front court will be 6-6½ junior Walter Actwood, 6-6½ junior Eugene Harris and 6-7 freshman Rennie Davis or 6-4½ senior Herb Wright.

Others expected to see action at Austin are guards Henry Jackson, a 6-1 freshman, Elijah Emanuel, a 6-4 junior and 6-2 sophomore Joe Kyias and 6-2 freshman center Jeff Klein.

In Monday night's win over Indiana State, three new team Coliseum records were achieved.

With his 22 rebounds, Actwood set a new team high eclipsing the 21 set by Jerry Brawner against LSU in 1969. The C. M. "Tad" Smith Coliseum record is 22 which Actwood shares with Al Leinhard of Georgia.

The Rebels also broke their own rebounding high-mark with 84 caroms, slashing the previous record of 77 set against Arkansas-Monticello on Dec. 4, 1971. The combined total of 133 passed the 116 total set with Arkansas-Monticello in 1967 and 1971.

Reported rubella (German measles) has dropped by 75 percent since the vaccine came into use six years ago, according to The National Foundation-March of Dimes. The virus causes only minor illness in adults, but a woman infected early in pregnancy risks having a baby with severe birth defects.

Babies born to poor parents are often smaller and more likely to have birth defects than infants of the more affluent, reports The National Foundation-March of Dimes. Poor nutrition during pregnancy is a contributing factor, according to a recent study.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Another cold front reached this area Sunday preceded by rain. These changes naturally affect fishing-making it good one day and bad the next.

Speckles are still biting and being caught along the two bridges, at Bayou Cadot and best of all out in the marshes. A good catch was made last Tuesday at Little Grassy opposite the mouth of Pearl River. One boat brought in two ice boxes of the speckled beauties.

Bass fishing has been on and off, according to the tide. They are mostly being caught on underwater baits—preferably long artificial worms and artificial plugs. Speckle trout are also hitting plugs by casting and trolling.

Duck hunting will close until the 2nd season. Hunters will go back to fishing till the season opens again. Hunting ducks according to those going after them has been pretty good and should be better when the season opens again.

Red fish and flounders are being caught, most every where. All that is needed is some dead shrimp and fishing on the bottom.

Two ardent duck hunters are Pat and Timothy Haggerty. They have been getting their share hunting out of Del-A-Croix, down the Miss. River. These boys are also good fishermen.

Spent Thanksgiving in New Orleans with Joan and Ray Hoffman and Family. Also visited the other children. Had an enjoyable weekend. Played pool one night, played cards and played the races one day. It was something different for a change.

Warren J. Beaux and his wife entertained at a pool party. Warren does a lot of fishing too.

Bill Kelly is a real sport. Doesn't like fishing or hunting too much but does his share of motorcycle riding. Another adopted member of the family.

Mark Buchert is young but a good fisherman. Mark fishes from a pirogue in Lake Pontchartrain. He is in the 8th grade at St. Angela Mercy School.

Met Bill Spiers. Bill plays pool, tennis and is in the Banking Equipment Business. Keeps pretty busy, I'll say.

Wayne Bourdeaux loves to go to shooting ranges. Claims to be a marksman. Margaret, his wife is a nurse at Erath, La. They are a swell young couple.

Another tip: clear your line often. It will keep the line floating which keeps the bug on the surface and it will be more effective. Fish are smarter than we are, lets fool them.

Was sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Gene Davis. Sympathy is extended to the family. She was a wonderful person.

For you fishermen who cast or troll for speckle trout a most effective bait is most any kind of artificial bait with a trailer behind. The trailer should be a large popping bug put about two feet behind the plug. Yellow seems to be the best color. Speckle really go for them. Of course, a mono filament line is used for the trailer.

For fly fishing one should always change a leader on each trip. Leaders take a beating especially when hooked on bushes, logs, etc. Even a leader with a knot on it is dangerous. The leader will break at the knot and lose a big fish. Change it and save a lot of cussing.

When you go fishing, don't shave. The fish can't recognize you. Ever think of this?

Don't worry about the other fisherman he may be using a different bait. So what? Yours may be better. Use the bait you have confidence in. Changing baits too often is sometimes disastrous. Stick to the same bait, it will pay off in the long run. It has been proven many times. I used one bait on 18 trips and caught fish each time. Don't think fish know one bait from the other. Action of the bait counts, not color.

Dan Haggerty, Mike and Pat brought me home. They spent the day meeting old friends and school chums. Planning some nice fishing trips in the near future.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK—In this rig William O. "Bill" Steele doesn't look much like a fisherman. The reason being, Bill just celebrated his 80th birthday. He, however, is one of our oldtime fishermen and still goes. Keep going, Bill, is my motto.

Calling someone "bald as a coot" is to compare him to the bald coot of Europe, a water bird whose bill extends well up into its forehead.

Local players among winners in Bridge championships

Dale Pierce of 102 Timber Lane, Bay St. Louis, and Michael Hunt of Long Beach, Miss., were among winners at the 1976 Fall North American Bridge Championships of the American Contract Bridge League held at the Hotel Fairmont in New Orleans Nov. 21-30.

The two players scored among the Manter Point award winners by leading a section of the Men's Palms, an event in which 504 players competed.

More than 4,000 players are listed among the participants in the 10 day meet at which five major North American titles and 12 lesser-rank tournament championships were up for award.
